Ardderchog!! (Ed - Welsh, we think!). Dïoich yn faur! (Ed - does anyone know whether or not we should be reproducing this part of the guest book or not??!). Thanks for a fantastic first 'family' holiday - love the place, area, & definitely the wine! Thanks for everything!

Sharon, Ben & Thomas Kathrens. Wales.

Excellent place - would love to return. Thanks for all your help and making our friends and babies welcome.

Richard, Jane and Bethany Cherrington. Wales.

Everything you could want from a holiday (and then some!) for all ages. The service provided by the Cooks is exemplary - they even found us a home in France! (nearby - was this such a smart move?!?). PS There were eleven of us here and even when it rained there was room for eleven plus. PPS If you remember the 11+ then you're as old as me...!

Dear M and Stu - to paraphrase your (late, great) fellow Brit George Orwell: 'All gites are equal, except some are more equal than others'. Yours is definitely more equal. Your place is a labour of love...and we loved it! Your hospitality, friendship, helpfulness, and kindness were unanticipated...but so truly appreciated. As Bogey (Ed - Humphrey Bogart) uttered in the Casablanca fog of 44: 'Frenchy - this could be the start of a beautiful relationship.'
Merci beaucoup!!!

Kathy & Phil Andrew. Alamo, California, USA

Without your daring and fortitude places like this would not be accessible to us. Thank you!

Jim & Cheryl Merrill. Madera, California, USA
